

Bulletproof InfoTech becomes Microsoft Online Services Partner

For many businesses throughout Alberta, the ways of reaching potential clients, exchanging information, collaborating with partners and working on documents with peers has changed and is constantly evolving. Today, many business owners have turned to the Internet to supply many of the services once only available within the confines of their office.

Today's highly competitive global market has forced more and more Alberta based small businesses to adapt the way technology is used within their business. What IT solutions they invest in combined with finding the right business solutions to match the needs of staff and the business overall.

Microsoft has made available through their partner community the Microsoft Business Productivity Online Services (BPOS) suite of business solutions designed for evolving small business. BPOS allows businesses to enjoy the feature rich solutions once only found in their server-based solutions, installed and managed on-premise by enterprise organizations. Business owners can now use Microsoft Exchange, Microsoft SharePoint, Microsoft Live Meeting and Office Communications through their Online Services without the hassle of supporting solutions onsite.

Businesses gain the benefits of these powerful solutions in a hosted and virtual environment for a low monthly cost rather than investing in expensive premised based server solutions. This subscription-based solution can be the right fit for your business if the needs of your business match the solutions offered in Microsoft's cloud.

Always trust in a professional.

Your business needs to trust a professional to assist in determining the correct solution for your business. Bulletproof InfoTech's team of business advisors has certifications in the Microsoft solutions businesses use today. Does your business need a solution that is entirely online, a combination of both online and onsite or a solution, which is designed to work within your office environment?

Trust Bulletproof to help you determine the right fit for your business.

The partnership of Microsoft Online Services and Bulletproof InfoTech provides businesses in Calgary and Red Deer the flexibility required in today's competitive environment. When combined with your business expertise, your team of IT Professionals at Bulletproof and Microsoft Business Productivity Online Services has the right tools to deliver greater productivity, increased sales and higher profits within your business.

Contact Bulletproof InfoTech today to learn about how the Microsoft Online Services will benefit your business. Contact us today at 403.340.1011 in Red Deer or our Calgary office at 403.206.2233. You can also email us at info@bulletproofIT.ca.

